SSCI provides Health & Safety Training to Employees working in Private and Public sector entities, businesses, organizations, and facilities across the United States. SSCI provides a wide spectrum of Employee training designed to meet rigorous industry standards, government regulations/guidelines, and specific client needs. All classes, workshops, seminars, and on-site training programs are structured and designed to maximize their effectiveness and value to the Employee. Classes are taught with a "proactive attitude" towards a Health & Safety consciousness in the workplace.

SSCI Health & Safety Training includes up-to-date course materials with supplemental reference information. Over 50 topics in the latest techniques and equipment are taught. All trainers are certified and have hands-on, real world experience with the subject material and course content being presented. Course summaries are provided for management review and customization. Completion certificates with laminated wallet-size copies are provided upon successful completion of course syllabus.

SSCI has regularly scheduled Health & Safety and Technical Training courses at our office locations. SSCI can provide training at your place of business and can arrange off-location training for large groups and customized training programs to meet your needs. We can also provide training around flexible work-schedules, including weekend and after-hour workshops and classes.
